The 2019 results of the HSBC Expat Explorer Survey are out, and Switzerland has knocked Singapore off the top spot, coming in at number one. It has long been a favourite amongst expats, making the top 10 every year since 2011, but this year Switzerland is leading the ranks. Switzerland is home to some of the world's best-known luxury brands and many expats enjoy a high salary along with speedy career progression. Most confirm they have an improved quality of life when they move to Switzerland; 82% of expats in Switzerland say they've seen an improvement according to the survey, and there's a very large and welcoming expat community to make you feel more at home. Expats are also impressed by the spectacular scenery and are content with the low pollution levels and a cleaner environment. Low crime rates and safe streets are also an important factor, with 67% of expats feeling safer in Switzerland than in their home country. Language can be a barrier as Switzerland has four official languages – Swiss German, French, Italian and Romansh. It is certainly advised to learn at least some basic phrases of the language used in the area you live in order to get by and it helps with integration, however English is widely spoken. The cost of living is very high in Switzerland, with Geneva, Zurich and Bern being some of the most expensive cities in the world. The high salaries do make up for that to a certain extent. Singapore comes second in the overall survey ranking, moving down one place since 2018; and Canada takes up third position, moving up one space. The Expat Explorer survey, in its fourteenth year in 2021, is the longest running independent global survey of expats. Commissioned by HSBC Expat and conducted by a third party research company YouGov, 20,460 expats based in over 46 countries and regions were questioned in April and May 2021. In order for the results and league tables to be statistically significant, we need a minimum sample size of 100 expat respondents from each location. Although we had respondents from over 100 locations this year, 46 met the minimum number of responses required. - Annual global survey influences business leader decision-making about relocation and business set up by evaluating perceptions across key indicators. - Bahrain's global ranking improves from nine to five. - Economic indicators, including career opportunities, local economics and personal finance drive Bahrain to number one ranking for expat satisfaction in MENA. - Manama, 12 November 2018. Bahrain has surpassed its previous ranking in the 2018 HSBC Expat Explorer Survey as the top destination in the Middle East region for individuals from across the world to resettle and achieve an exceptional quality of life. Each year, the survey serves as a trusted assessment of expats' experiences in relocation and career growth across the world. In the 2018 survey, Bahrain's position improved to fifth-ranked country in the world for expat satisfaction, from ninth in 2017. The HSBC survey, conducted globally among 22,000 respondents, evaluates expat sentiment across three major components: economics, experience and family. Bahrain's standing improved markedly across each of these areas in the 2018 index, up by 12, 5 and 4 positions respectively, compared to 2017. The primary drivers of this strong performance include wage growth, opportunities for career progression, work-life balance, job security, access to quality child care and the welcoming social fabric of Bahrain. 'We are consistently ranked as the top location in the MENA region to live, work and raise a family, said Dr Simon Galpin, Managing Director of the EDB. 'From the exceptional primary and higher education available here, to the ways we are transforming public services, including housing and health care, Bahrain continues to represent a prime destination for expats to seamlessly integrate into our society and thrive.' Bahrain is the only MENA nation in the 2018 HSBC survey rankings for who's position improved in the top 10 destinations. Other key indices, such as 2018 InterNations Expat Survey, also rank Bahrain highly as a location for expats to settle and flourish. For the second year, Bahrain also achieved the number one global ranking in the InterNations survey, demonstrating high performance on factors such as 'ease of settling in,' 'feeling at home' and 'digital life.' These factors indicate that Bahrain remains an open society in transition to capitalise on a transformative ecosystem in which the companies of the future can excel and grow. - ENDS - For more information, please contact: Communications and Media Department Economic Development Board Phone: 17589966 E-mail: internationalmedia@bahrainedb.com About Bahrain Economic Development Board The Bahrain Economic Development Board (EDB) is an investment promotion agency with overall responsibility for attracting investment into the Kingdom and supporting initiatives that enhance the investment climate.
